

Friday March 7th 2025,

Dear parents,

This week has been Book Week in Straits International School Rawang, with our purposeful sessions and activities culminating in yesterday's World Book Day events. Thank you to all parents who supported in any way, and in particular to those who contributed so wonderfully by reading stories which we have posted online to showcase our love of books and reading across our whole community.

Next week is another busy and productive week in our school. From Tuesday March 11th to Friday March 14th we will be welcoming visitors from our ISP regional and global teams to Straits International School Rawang for our LIP (Learning Improvement Process) Review. This is our school's first ever in-person review, with all other iterations of this improvement process being self-assessments by school leaders, and we are very much looking forward to engaging in professional dialogue so that we can continue to constantly strive for the very best for our students. It may be that you see some of our visitors in school each day, and it would be very much appreciated if you could also take the time to welcome them and to feed back your honest perspectives about where we are as a school and what you feel we need to do to improve further. Your views as parents will always be key to the strategies we seek to implement.

Finally this week, parents should note that we will be conducting our first lockdown drill of the academic year later this term, on Tuesday April 8th. Further, more detailed information will follow in due course, once we have also outlined what will happen and why we are doing this to our students. We have made some modifications to our PA system which we feel will improve our lockdown procedures, hence the slightly later date in the academic year than would perhaps be usual for our first drill of this kind.

As always, if parents would like to contact me directly about any of the issues outlined above, then please feel free to email me directly.

Yours sincerely,

Steven Miles.
